420 Edition

Your guide to dog friendly cannabis stores in Waterloo Region

A NOTE FROM DFKW

New things coming in 2023

We had so much fun expanding our events and activities in 2022 that we couldn't wait to bring you even more things in 2023, starting with our 4/20 Community Guide!

We absolutely love finding new places and spaces for you to go with your pup, and our local cannabis stores are a great spot to check out.

We have compiled a comprehensive list of local stores that you can check out with your pup. Many even have treats for your dog on hand!

We have many upcoming initiatives this year and are always seeking ways to develop new partnerships, support businesses, and engage with new groups within the community - so if you'd like to connect, please don't hesitate to reach out!

We can't wait to keep bringing you along as we explore all kinds of places to go with our dogs!

HEALTH DISCLAIMER

Disclaimer: This publication provides educational information about cannabis in Canada, but it is not a substitute for professional medical advice. Cannabis use can have potential health risks, including impaired judgment, coordination, and reaction time, adverse effects on mental health, and long-term respiratory and developmental effects.

Consult a healthcare professional before using cannabis, especially if you have a medical condition or take medications. Use cannabis responsibly and be aware of the potential risks associated with its use.

PET SAFETY DISCLAIMER

Disclaimer: This publication provides educational information about pet safety around cannabis products in the home. Cannabis products, particularly those with high levels of THC, can be harmful to pets if ingested. Pet owners should store cannabis products safely and out of reach of pets, and seek immediate veterinary care if ingestion is suspected.

This publication is not intended to promote or endorse the use of cannabis products for pets. Consult with a licensed veterinarian before administering any cannabis-derived product to your pets including CBD.
